

For research and solutions on every dental problem, find your problem on the left under CariFree e Solution Centre and click to find useful information and products that can help prevent cavities.

What are dental caries? I thought they were called cavities.

Cavities are caused by a bacterial infection known in the dental profession as caries. This infection is not only treatable, but preventable. CariFree is here to help patients find assistance and products for treating and preventing the caries infection.