Dear Brian,

It's been a year since I acquired the Endox machine from you and I feel able to comment with some validity. I have found it a great help in improving my clinical success in endodontics and now would not be without it.

It does not replace the need for conventional preparation of the canals in my hands but is a great aid in removing vital tissue, arresting hyperaemic states and an absolute gem in cleaning up chronically inflamed periapical areas and the reduction of bacterial load in the canals. This fact has helped with the time pressure to provide adequate outcomes in my NHS practice.

As you know, I am moving away from the NHS in the immediate future and therefore will have more time to dedicate to my patients. This machine will continue to prove invaluable for future success. It certainly provides a talking point for my patients, it looks good, is easy to maintain and clean and provides an extra dimension to keeping up with 'technical advances' which impresses some patients.

Look forward to dealing with you and your company and its usual high standard of personal and excellent service.

Kindest regards,
